Lights on in Bad Ragaz – for the second time!

From this day on, Light Ragaz is enchanting its visitors with magical lights.

With four months playing time this year, many folks might get lucky now and be able to visit the light spectacle at the Tamina gorge that was already sold out after a few weeks in 2017. The event had resonated euphorically in 2017, and thus the illustrious guests could barely wait for the 2018 premiere with all its completely updated installations.

It looks like this year again, the team is about to meet everybody's expectations. The projections of the Zurich based artists' collective Projektil literally enthrall the visitors and make space and time turn into a mere footnote. Going into the gorge, you keep meeting visitors with an astonished look on their faces who have to come to grips again with the daily conditions here on planet Earth. One thing is for sure: Light Ragaz is making a lasting impression.

The rocks that loom above the Tamina gorge are up to 80 meters high. The projections that add an extra share of magical powers to the thermal waters on their way down to Bad Ragaz almost reach that same height. Light Ragaz tells a mystical tale of Paracelsus and his discovery of the fountains high above the village. This water that reaches its legendary temperature of precisely 36.5° thanks to enchanting elemental spirits is the inspiration to and the motto of Light Ragaz at the same time, from the very entrance until the very last installation.

Rosa Ilmer, managing director of Light Ragaz and a local restaurant owner, has not only been waiting for this day to come – she has put all her efforts into the event. „The objective of our work is the merging of elements both proven and new. The illusion in perfect harmony with history and reality. I promise you an emotional journey with truly magical encounters. Come and let us surprise you.“

This emotional journey is taking place three times an evening from now on, and four times on weekends. The postbus takes you on a leisurely trip from Bad Ragaz up to the Tamina gorge and directly to the magical gates of Light Ragaz. The sea of lights will take its time until the end of September.
