LIGHT RAGAZ: Lights on in Bad Ragaz - for the third time!

Gold rush in the Tamina gorge – from now on every day until early October

The gold fever is catching on. It takes visitors of Light Ragaz into a world filled with mystery and imagination, from now on every day between 5.30 and 8.30pm. There are up to four performances every night; and there's easy transportation available thanks to extra trips of the post bus, the «Postauto». Tickets are available via either lightragaz.com or ticketino.com

The ridged rock faces alone, towering up to 250 feet above the roaring river, suffice to fill visitors of the Tamina gorge, almost one kilometre in length, with humbleness and enchantment at the very same time. From this stage on, the impressions grow even more intense: When the lights and colours of Light Ragaz hit the barren rock structures with millimetre precision, and unforgettable sight opens to visitors. It's the perfect symbiosis of Swiss nature and state of the art technology.

Rosa-El. Ilmer, manageress of Light Ragaz, isn't only looking forward to magical projections: «It's incredibly beautiful to see how the gold fever has caught on in the entire area. We can hardly wait to disclose the rules of the games after the opening of Light Ragaz. This is going to be the most crazy treasure hunt of the year.»

A town caught by the gold fever

So, if you're planning a trip the world-famous health resort in the Canton of St. Gallen during the upcoming months, you'll be likely to contract a severe case of the gold fever. Just ask all the folks who live in Bad Ragaz: Retail merchants, restaurant owners, hotel managers and many other locals have adorned their homes and houses with golden paraphernalia. There's a reason for this: They all are part of the craziest happening of this whole year.
