LIGHT RAGAZ: Gold rush in Bad Ragaz

After two sold out season, the spectacle of lights returns to Bad Ragaz on June 13th, 2019

Visitors are humbled and enchanted at the same time. The angular rock faces that tower some 250 feet above a raging river – that alone makes people gasp in wonder. As soon as the lights of Bad Ragaz hit the structures of the barren rock with millimetre precision every day from 5.30pm from mid-June on, the brute Swiss landscape turns into an endless sea of light. Magical creatures of air, of fire and earth, plus enormous plants of all shapes and colours are ablaze in bright light and mesmerize visitors with a breath-taking symbiosis of art and nature. An unforgettable round tour between illusion and reality for both young and old.

Using to state-of-the art technology, light is projected onto the walls of the Tamina gorge in the shape of animations, 3D effects and particles of the entire colour spectrum. All of this creates the worlds largest natural screen for moving images. In its third year, the completely redesigned show is presenting itself in a golden gown.

The outbreak of the gold rush

Light Ragaz and the Grand Resort Bad Ragaz team up and paint the town golden in honour of the sesquicentennial and the re-opening of the renovated Grand Hotel Quellenhof. A golden light is also cast upon the Tamina gorge and the course of the river.

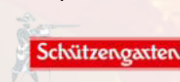

But that's not the only treat. Somewhere in the world-famous resort, between the source and the mouth of the river, there lies real gold awaiting daring treasure hunters. Rosa El. Ilmer, managing director of Light Ragaz, can already sense the gold rush: "In order to thank visitors for these past two years that were truly incredible, we now put on the craziest treasure hunt Switzerland has ever seen. At a set date in summer which we're not telling yet, the gold will become visible in the Tamina gorge – everybody is invited to find and maybe even dig out the gold plus an array of further prizes", she adds with a telling smile.

A fantastic light show plus a treasure hunt for real gold: Two really good reasons to take a summer trip to Bad Ragaz.
